

What Attracts a Younger Woman to an Older Man?

Many of us are old enough to remember when women dating older men was very common, in fact, some parents preferred their daughters date older men, why?

Because economically it made sense to so. It wasn't until women began marrying the government via welfare that dating older men became taboo, or something frowned upon.

Why date an older man when the government takes care of your economic needs?

It's a valid argument if you think about it, unfortunately, history has taught us that these unnatural phenomena don't last the test of time, eventually, there comes a period in time in which great nations go on the decline.

Now, just because great nations go on the decline doesn't mean every citizen has to be on the decline also. Some women as an example get ahead of the curve and don't allow themselves to be brainwashed by popular culture.

These brave women aren't afraid to date older men and this leads me to why younger women are attracted to older men.

Why Younger women like older men

A woman wants a sense of security, now to the men reading this, don't confuse the word security with the word money, there are a lot of men with money that the poorest of the poor women want nothing to do with.

Security means that she wants to know that you can cater to her needs, notice I used the words needs and not her wants. A woman needs a man to be a man, she doesn't want to be in charge of her man, she wants her man to be a man, without having to resort to force. She wants to be able to barter with her partner, but she'd prefer he be the head of the household.

I often write quite favorably about Foreign Affair and what I often write is that when men join Foreign Affair which is an international dating website and they take me up on my offer to actually visit the women in person, some of the men are shocked that the younger women seeking older men outnumber the men that attend.

I often have to remind the men, it's Western Cultural influence on the world that makes most men and women in Western countries miserable.

According to natural laws, we're supposed to mate, make babies, and raise the standard of living of mankind, but politics gets in the way, Liberal vs. Conservative Right vs. Left all of these silly man-made laws distort happiness and what the good people at Foreign Affair do is they bring the natural order to dating.

People are attracted to people who make them happy, most younger women are happier around older men who treat them right. Women mature faster than men do, however there reaches a point in which men become as smart or even smarter than women and it's this period in which brings a woman joy, because then she can feel a sense of comfort.

If women mature faster than men, a woman will have to wait maybe until her 45th birthday before her husband and boyfriend of the same age meets her maturity.

Why should a woman put herself through that type of stress? If a woman starts dating say around 26 and she dates someone the same age as her, she'll have to wait possibly 20 years before her boyfriend is as mature as she is.

If you read about the lives of the wealthy 200+ years ago many dated younger women, if you use common sense, it's to a woman benefit to date a much older man.

It might not feel fair if you're a young man, but as a young man you're mastering your abilities to be a provider anyway and once you master these skills you then become a very desirable older man.

No, trust me I get it, and this doesn't mean that as a younger man you can't date women your own age, but as you get older, what I'm writing here makes a whole lot of sense for both men and women collectively.

Now, of course, there are exceptions to every rule, some people marry their childhood sweetheart, but that's rare and everyone knows it's rare because if it was common it wouldn't be so romantic. The reality is deep down women know it's in their best interests to marry an older man, but many are too embarrassed to do it.

A woman has to be a leader in order to put her happiness first. Most women put their friends, family members, or popular culture ahead of their personal desires and that's fine, but that's why I tell men you do not have to suffer in silence if you're an older man looking for love join us at Foreign Affair.

We designed Foreign Affair because we want to make men and women happy, this our niche, this is what we do, this s all we do, I hope you'll consider reading some of our Foreign Affair Testimonials in which you can watch videos, read testimonials watch the visuals and feel like you can be part of this experience.
